

COMMERCE BANK
of Temecula Valley

Great banking relationships allow customers to grow...come grow with us because banking is more than 800 numbers, it's about people and relationships.

When Rusty and I started our business A Grape Escape Balloon Adventure in 1991, Temecula was a small community where personal business relationships were the norm. We were good friends with the manager of the first bank where we opened our business account. But, soon we became just another "account number" at our local "chain" bank. As we waited in endless lines to do our banking business, and were charged a service fee for using our own money, we started to wonder why we were doing business with this bank. We wanted a change. We found it at Commerce Bank of Temecula Valley. They are dedicated to personal relationships. When we walk in the bank the tellers recognize us by name. They are at the fore front of technology offering remote check capture which allows our business the flexibility of making deposits in the convenience of our office. We feel so fortunate to have developed a relationship with a local independent bank and look forward to watching their business "lift off". We invite each of you to lift off with us over Southern California Wine Country.
